c) ensuring, under the law, the necessary logistical and operational assistance and the provision of fighting equipment, weapons and ammunition in the anti-terrorist operation.

1.4 Provide any additional relevant information on national efforts to prevent and combat terrorism, e.g., those pertaining inter alia to:

— Financing of terrorism;

— Border controls;

— Travel document security;

— Container and supply chain security;

— Security of radioactive sources;

— Use of the Internet and other information networks for terrorist purposes;

— Legal co-operation including extradition;

— Safe havens and shelter to terrorists and terrorist organizations.

2. Stationing of armed forces on foreign territory

2.1 Provide information on stationing of your States armed forces on the territory of other participating States in accordance with freely negotiated agreements as well as in accordance with international law. FSC.DEC/2/09 1 April 2009 Annex

The Republic of Moldova does not have any troops permanently stationed abroad.

The Republic of Moldova signed and adopted the Agreement among the States parties to the North Atlantic Treaty and the other States participating in the Partnership for Peace regarding the status of their forces (SOFA), according to the Parliament decision from 16th of July 1997 and the Law of the Republic of Moldova 448-XV from 13th of November 2003 on the status of foreign military forces in the Republic of Moldova.

Yet, in accordance with the Law on participation of the Republic of Moldova in the international missions and operations, nr.219 from 03.12.2015, the Parliament, on the Government's proposal, decides on deployment of Moldovan troops abroad for participation in international peace support operations.

In this context, on November 1, 2013 the Moldovan Parliament approved deployment of Moldavian contingent for participation in international peacekeeping operation in Kosovo.

In accordance with the Technical Arrangement between the Ministry of Defence of the Republic of Moldova and the Ministry of the Defence of the Italian Republic, starting with March 8, 2014 a Moldovan Army contingent is deployed on a 6 months tour of duty to Kosovo as part of the Multinational Peacekeeping Force, KFOR, Kosovo.

Up till now the Republic of Moldova has deployed ten contingents to Kosovo. The 10th contingent of the National Army in KFOR peacekeeping operation, was replaced on 9 of December 2018 by another contingent of Moldovan military personnel, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Godoroja Ion. The 10th Moldovan Army contingent is made up of 33 infantry, 7 Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD) personnel and one KFOR HQ Staff Officer. The infantry platoon and the EOD team are stationed within the Multinational Battle Group West (MNBG – G), Camp "VILLAGGIO ITALIA", in Belo POLJE. They are carrying out security, guard and patrol missions. All service members are trained and tested in compliance with the NATO standards prior to being deployed.

3. Implementation of other international commitments related to the Code of Conduct

3.1 Provide information on how your State ensures that commitments in the field of arms control, disarmament and confidence and security-building as an element of indivisible security are implemented in good faith.

Annually, the Republic of Moldova is hosting one evaluation visit and 3 specified area inspections according to the Vienna Document 2011 (VD11), as well as 1 inspection in accordance with the Conventional Forces in Europe Treaty (CFE). The Republic of Moldova does not currently conduct active inspections.

The Republic of Moldova prepares military information exchanges, along with other relevant notifications and questionnaires which are being distributed to all

OSCE member states on an annual basis, according to the CPC Implementation Calendar.

3.2 Provide information on how your State pursues arms control, disarmament and confidence- and security-building measures with a view to enhancing security and stability in the OSCE area.

Each year, the Republic of Moldova is organizing bilateral training inspections with other OSCE member states in the spirit of confidence and security-building measures, in order to strengthen and enhance the cooperation between states, and most importantly to contribute to the security and stability in the OSCE area.

Section II: Intra-State elements

1. National planning and decision-making process

1.1 What is the national planning and decision-making process in determining/approving military posture and defence expenditures in your State?

Recent adjustment of Law on National Defence (from 17.06.2016) institutionalized the National Defence Planning process by outlining procedures and mechanisms to be taken by responsible authorities in drafting strategic documents, and namely: National Security Strategy (NSS), National Defence Strategy ((NDS), dated 19.07.2018) and Military Strategy ((MS, dated on 03.10.2018)) of the Republic of Moldova, Strategic Defence Review (SDR) and Defence Planning Directive of the Ministry of Defence (MOD).

The Parliament of the Republic of Moldova approves the main directions for domestic and foreign policy, controls executive bodies within the Constitution's limits, and approves the state budget. According to new law the Parliament approves National Security Strategy, National Defence Strategy and Military Doctrine, as well as Military Discipline Regulation. It executes the parliamentary control over Armed Forces.

The Parliament decides on the following important issues:

- declaring belligerency state in case of military aggression and decision on peace agreement after the end of military actions;*
- establishing state of war and its cancellation;*
- the use of the Armed Forces for honouring obligations under international treaties, the Republic of Moldova is part of, which concerns to maintaining peace and security.*

With regard to the Government responsibilities in defence matters, the new amendments envisaged that Government develops National Defence Strategy and presents for examination to the President, who sends it to the Parliament for the approval. It approves Military Strategy and Strategic Defence Review.

The MOD is the main specialized authority of the central public administration in the defence. The MOD exercises direct control of the National Army and is responsible for the National Army building, development, and combat readiness. It is also responsible for the strategic planning concerning the use of the National Army and for providing appropriate defence capabilities for the national defence.

The MOD analyses political-military situation, participates and conducts the National Defence's Strategy drafting process, develops Military Strategy, issues Defence Planning Directive and gives suggestions with regard to military budget as well as other defence-related documents.

There are also other ministries and departments responsible for the country defence with tasks of supporting military during the crisis.

1.2 How does your State ensure that its military capabilities take into account the legitimate security concerns of other States as well as the need to contribute to international security and stability?

In its international activities on this issue, Republic of Moldova is governed by international law in force and other instruments of political-military orientation. Actively using on its territory mechanisms such as the Vienna Document 2011 on confidence and security building measures, the Republic of Moldova demonstrates openness and transparency in military activities.

As a member of UN, OSCE and other organizations responsible for international security and stability, the Republic of Moldova contributes to these efforts according to internationally recognized norms and procedures. Taking part in national and international peacekeeping operations and missions is one of the National Army's core objectives. This shows our state's attempt to be pro-active in consolidating peace, stability and security both in the country and abroad as a basic means of strengthening peaceful reconciliation in accordance with legitimate security concerns of other States.

Since 1997, the Republic of Moldova has actively contributed to OSCE-led international missions to Chechen Republic, Kosovo, Macedonia, Georgia; NATO-led operations to Bosnia and Herzegovina, as well as post-conflict relief missions to Iraq.

The Republic of Moldova has also actively contributed to UN-based missions and operations to Liberia, Cote d'Ivoire, Sudan, Central African Republic, Kosovo and Georgia. Since 2003, the National Army started contributing to UN-led peacekeeping operations with military personnel. Since then, 131 Moldovan service members have been engaged in the following missions and operations: UNOMIG in Georgia, UNOCI in Côte d'Ivoire, UNMIL in Liberia, UNMIS in Sudan, UNMISS in the Republic of South Sudan, UNMIK in Kosovo and MINUSCA in the Central African Republic. Currently, 11 service members serve in UN-led peacekeeping missions and one officer from the Ministry of Defense is deployed within the UN Department for Peacekeeping Operations (DPKO), New York, USA.

Moreover, the Republic of Moldova has contributed to European Union led multinational training missions in the Central African Republic (EUMAM RCA) and Mali (EUTM), over 2015-2016, and 2018 - up to present, respectively. Currently, 1 officer is deployed to EUTM Mali.

2. Existing structures and processes

2.1 What are the constitutionally established procedures for ensuring democratic political control of military, paramilitary and internal security forces, intelligence services and the police?

Armed Forces

The democratic control over the Armed Forces (National Army and General Inspectorate of Carabineer) is based on the authority of the political factor over the military one within the civil-military relations.

Subordination of the military structures to the democratically-elected civil authorities is an essential element that provides the overall activity of the Armed Forces in accordance with the Republic of Moldova's Constitution and other current legislation.

The Parliament's control/oversight over the Armed Forces is executed through a mechanism that provides the following:

- approves the national security strategy, national defense strategy and military doctrine of the state;*
- approves the structure and the number of the Armed Forces;*
- approves the volume of budgetary allocations for defense needs;*
- approves the regulation on military discipline;*
- declares a state of siege or war;*
- declares mobilization and demobilization.*

The control/oversight over the Armed Forces is exercised by the Parliament through the following means:

- receiving defence related reports, analyses, and programs;*
- oversight via appropriate parliamentary committees; the main control is executed by the Parliamentary Committee for National Security, Defence and Public Order;*
- inquires and hearings.*

The important defence-related issues are examined during parliamentary sessions.

The President of the Republic of Moldova as the Head of State and Commander-in-Chief (CINC) of the Armed Forces exercises the highest-level civil control over the military system.

The President controls the Armed Forces by:

- promulgating defence-related laws, using his right to request the Parliament to re-examine certain laws, and Constitutional Court to confirm the laws constitutionality;*
- initiating elaboration of the National Security Strategy and National Defence Strategy;*

- appointing the Minister of Defence;
- approving the Regulation of the General Staff;
- approving the programs and plans for the construction and development of the Armed Forces;
- approving the mobilization plan of the Armed Forces;
- approving the plan on the use of the Armed Forces;
- approving the military regulations;
- approving the composition of the Military Council of the Ministry of Defence;
- presenting to the Parliament for the approval drafts of the National Security Strategy, National Defence Strategy, general structure and composition of the components of the Armed Forces, military discipline regulations;
- coordinating the international military cooperation;
- carrying out general management on accumulation of resources for the needs of the national defence system;
- issuing decrees on the enrolling of citizens in military service;
- submitting to Parliament proposals for effective participation, weapons and military equipment to international peacekeeping operations or humanitarian purposes.

The President is the Chairman of the Supreme Security Council. The Supreme Security Council, an advisory body, makes proposals on the development of the Armed Forces and on defence policy issues.

The Republic of Moldova Government exercises control, as an executive body, over the Armed Forces.

To exercise the civil control over the Armed Forces, the Government:

- forward laws' drafts to the Parliament;
- sign agreements on military co-operation with other states;
- provide framework for maintaining defence capabilities of the country.

To exercise civil control over the Armed Forces, the Prime-minister:

- propose to the President a nominee for the Minister of Defence;
- confirm with his signature the President's decrees on defence.
- approves the authorized number of posts of the General Inspectorate of Carabineer;

Internal Security Forces

The General Inspectorate of Carabineer is a specialized state authority with a military status, subordinated to the Ministry of Internal Affairs, which has the mission to defend the fundamental rights and freedoms of the person by performing the duties of maintaining, securing and restoring public order, preventing and investigating offenses and contraventions. It also executes protection of objectives of particular importance, prevention and combating of terrorism, the ensuring state of emergency, siege or war.

During the peace time, the General Inspectorate of Carabineer exercises police powers, but on declaration of the state of siege or war, it performs the specific duties of the Armed Forces under the conditions provided by the law and the normative acts in force.

The General Inspectorate of Carabineer is part of the national system of public order and security and of the national defence system.

Police

Being a component part of the Ministry of Internal Affairs, the police are an armed body of the public authorities responsible for protecting citizens' life, health and liberties, as well as society and state interests against criminal or other delinquent attacks.

Police consists of the combat crime police and the public order police.

Combat crime police (criminal police) - ensuring special investigative measures and actions criminal procedure, performed under legal conditions, preventing and combating crime, detection and investigation of crimes, identifying those who committed them, and where appropriate , the search for them.

Public order police - maintenance, restoration and ensurance of public order and security, ensure personal security, crime prevention and violations, finding and sanctioning offenses under the law.

Police is a unique and centralized system that includes:

- General Inspectorate of Police;*
- Specialized subdivisions;*
- Territorial subdivisions;*

Office of the Prosecutor General and public prosecutors executes general oversight over the police.

Intelligence Services

According to the current legislation (Law on State Security Bodies, nr. 619 from 31.10.1995), the state security system consists of Security and Intelligence Service, State Security and Protection Service, Border Police of the Ministry of Internal Affairs and Customs Service of the Ministry of Finance.

The Security and Intelligence Service is a special body, which assures the state security.

As a special structure of the executive administration, the State Security and Protection Service has a mission to protect and secure persons, who benefit from governmental protection, as well as objects under special security regime.

Border police

Border police executes tasks and implements state policy on integrated management of the state border, combating illegal migration and cross-border crime.

Customs Service

The Customs Service is the law enforcement body of executive authority, which is carrying out a customs policy and a direct management of customs activities in the Republic of Moldova.

The Parliament exercises control and oversight over state intelligence structures through parliamentary audiences and investigations. It also examines the accounts of state security bodies during opened or closed parliamentary sessions as well as at the Parliament's National Security, Defence and Public Order Committee hearings or at the Board Sessions of the Security and Intelligence Service.

The permanent control and oversight over state security bodies activity is done by the Parliament through the Parliamentary Committee for National Security, Defence and Public Order. State security bodies are required to respond, according to the legislation provisions, inquiring and other legal demands made by Special, Investigation, and Permanent Committees of the Parliament as well as by parliamentarians.

The judiciary control over the state security bodies is exercised during the court trials on criminal cases. This control is also exercised during trials referred to crimes and abuses committed by state security members, as well as illegal actions made by citizens against state security members and officeholders.

Office of the Prosecutor General and public prosecutors monitor and oversight laws of the state security structures; the financial control of their activities is executed by the Court of Audit.

2.2 How is the fulfilment of these procedures ensured, and which constitutionally established authorities/institutions are responsible for exercising these procedures?

The fulfilment of the required ensured procedures are thoughtfully enumerated and explained in the detailed answer provided above. (point 2.1)

2.3 What are the roles and missions of military, paramilitary and security forces, and how does your State control that such forces act solely within the constitutional framework?

The military service is satisfied within the military forces, meant for the national defence, guarding the border and maintaining public order, under the main law.

The National Army is the basic component of the Armed Forces, which ensures, in peace and war, the integration into a unitary conception of the activities of all the forces participating in the defence actions of the country. Main mission is to ensure national defence by preventing, counteracting and annihilating military threats and aggressions against the country.

The use of the National Army in solving the problems that are not directly related to the defence of the state is carried out exclusively under the Parliament's decision and, in extreme situations, by the decree of the President of the Republic of Moldova.

The state's security bodies are special structures of the executive authorities designed to ensure, within their responsibilities, the security of the Republic of Moldova.

They have the follow-on responsibilities:

- to defend of Republic of Moldova's independence and territorial integrity, to ensure protection of the state borders, enforce the constitutional order, ensure human rights and liberties;
- to provide information and intelligence needed for government's activity;
- to conduct counter-intelligence against illegal activities of special services or organizations of other states;
- to provide the Parliament, the President and the Government with the information required for solving state security issues;
- to combat terrorism, organized crime, and corruption, which undermine the country's security;
- to provide security for national and foreign high officials;

3. Procedures related to different forces personnel

3.1 What kind of procedures for recruitment and call-up of personnel for service in your military, paramilitary and internal security forces does your State have?

According to the Constitution, the military service is considered as a right and as a duty of every citizen.

Thus, the Law on citizens' readiness for the country defence stipulates that only men over 18 years who are citizens of the Republic of Moldova are recruited in the military service. The duration of the conscript service is 12 months. The maximum age for conscription recruitment is 27 years old.

Public administration authorities along with military recruiting centres recruit citizens according to presidential decrees and governmental decisions. The recruitment committees select and further assign recruit to the Armed Forces.

In 2018 Republic of Moldova assumed new Governmental Program of the Professionalization of the National Army for the years 2018-2021. The program follows the firm political will to consolidate, develop and modernize the national defence system, as well as the National Army's professionalization per se.

This document is a premiere for the Republic of Moldova and envisions the gradual replacement of the mandatory military service with the service of professional service members. The program focuses especially on the importance and role of service members in the national defence system and the structural reform of the National Army.

The Program determines the main spheres of the development of the Moldovan armed forces proceeding from the size of funding provided by the Government. The document takes into account the risks and threats for the country's state security and defines the methodology of distribution of state budget means and additional resources provided for converting the national army into professional armed forces. The Program stipulates that the annual compulsory drafts of young people will be replaced with the employment of military professionals to serve on the basis of personal contracts. It determines also changes in the organization of the military service, in equipping the army with weaponry, military equipment and up-to-date combat know-how.

According to the Law on police activity and policeman statute nr.320 from 27.12.2012, responsibilities in the area of maintenance and restoration of security, rule of law and public order will be exercised by the General Inspectorate of Carabineer (internal troops) in collaboration with the Police until the time of reorganization of Carabineers with following integration in the Police. With this in mind, until that time Carabineers shall be completed by Moldovan citizens, incorporated in the army. At function of soldiers and sergeants could be assigned military on the contract basis under the orders of the Minister of Internal Affairs, according to the Law on the General Inspectorate of Carabineer nr.219 issued on 08.11.2018.

The recruiting committees are authorized to postpone conscription due to family and health problems, studying extension necessity, and executing deputy mandate in local public administration authorities as well as during criminal investigation process.

3.2 What kind of exemptions or alternatives to military service does your State have?

According to the Law on citizens' readiness for the country defence provisions, citizens can be exempted from obligatory conscription on the follow-on bases, in case if:

- recognized as unfit for military service during the peacetime;
- accomplished the military obligatory training;
- released from execution of military duties on private consciousness bases (for example: religion believes);
- person has lost his father (mother), brother (sister) who died during military service. Recruit may not use this right;
- convicted or not rehabilitated according to the legislation.

The Republic of Moldova has enacted the legislation that provided the possibility for recruits who refuse to bear arms due to pacifistic and/or religious reasons to be exempted from military service. Such citizens can be offered civilian service, so-called alternative service, in public sector.

The Law on citizen service (alternative), dated on 06.07.2007, determines the terms and provisions of such service.

The duration of the civil service is 12 months. For people with higher education, the duration of this service is 6 months.

3.3 What are the legal and administrative procedures to protect the rights of all forces personnel as well as conscripts? FSC.DEC/2/09 1 April 2009 Annex

The military personnel benefit from all constitutional rights and liberties; they can also obtain additional rights due to their special status.

According to the Delinquency Code, for committing offences outside of service duties, military personnel, except conscripts, respond under the general provisions. But, conscripts respond under Military Discipline Regulation.

According to the Military Discipline Regulation, each military has the right to comply against illegal actions of the commander and against violations of his rights and liberties. The appeal is submitted to the chief of the person whose actions are complained upon; the commander is obliged to examine it during the period of three days in order to make a decision.

If the complainer is not satisfied with the decision, he has the right to go on trial according to the general procedures.

4. Implementation of other political norms, principles, decisions and international humanitarian law

4.1 How does your State ensure that International Humanitarian Law and Law of War are made widely available, e.g., through military training programmes and regulations?

In order to implement provisions of the Geneva Convention from 1949 and its additional protocols from 1977, the National Advisory and Co-ordination Committee for the implementation of the humanitarian law was established within the Government of the Republic of Moldova. The main duty of this committee is to assure the international law compliance, especially its reflection and implementation in the Moldovan legislation. The Ministry of Defence also has a representative at this Committee.

The National Army continues co-operating with the Regional Delegation of the International Committee of the Red Cross resulting in an annual co-operation plan. According to this, seminars and conferences are organized with officers, conscripts and students of the Military Academy of the Armed Forces. Additionally, students from the Military Academy participate in international competitions on international humanitarian law.

The annual curriculum of the Military Academy consists of 30 academic hours for the international humanitarian law.

The international humanitarian law norms are permanently distributed within the Armed Forces with support of the Regional Delegation International Committee of the Red Cross.

Since 2006, National Army of the Republic of Moldova complies with the norms outlined in the Minister of Defence Order on Regulation on implementation of the law of armed conflicts norms in the National Army of the Republic of Moldova. This Regulation outlines the order of application of the law of armed conflicts norms in National Army of the Republic of Moldova, establishes duties of officials on the organization of studying, distribution, practical working off and implementation of the law of armed conflicts norms.

4.2 What has been done to ensure that armed forces personnel are aware of being individually accountable under national and international law for their actions?

According to the Internal Service Regulation of the Moldovan Armed Forces, the military personnel are obligated to be familiar with and to respect firmly the international norms concerning the Code of Conduct during military actions.

The training and practical exercises on international humanitarian law are conducted for military personnel on the regular bases.

At the same time, the military personnel receive knowledge of national and international legislation during their basic military training.

4.3 How does your State ensure that armed forces are not used to limit the peaceful and lawful exercise of human and civil rights by persons as individuals or as representatives of groups nor to deprive them of national, religious, cultural, linguistic or ethnic identity?

According to the Constitution of the Republic of Moldova and the Law on national defence, armed forces are subordinate solely to the will of the people to safeguard the sovereignty, independence, unity and territorial integrity of the country and constitutional democracy.

National Army implication in problems solving not directly related to defence shall be made only upon the decision of Parliament, and in extreme cases, by decree of the President.

4.4 What has been done to provide for the individual service member's exercise of his or her civil rights and how does your State ensure that the country's armed forces are politically neutral?

Military personnel benefit from all constitutional rights and guarantees, as the citizens of Moldova, and also have the right to vote and to be elected, except to be part of parties and other socio-political organizations or to conduct political activities in their favour. Therefore it will guarantee political neutrality in the national armed forces.

4.5 How does your State ensure that its defence policy and doctrine are consistent with international law?

The Constitution of the Republic of Moldova recognizes the supremacy of the international laws over the national legislation.
