Steps taken to implement the provisions of Article 3:

In the reporting period elements of the Netherlands armed forces were part of Operation Inherent Resolve (OIR) in Iraq and MINUSMA and EUTM in Mali. The Netherlands armed forces on mission did not exercise control over any territory and during this period there was no cessation of hostilities. Therefore it was not feasible to provide the assistance as foreseen under the provisions for this Article. The clearance, removal and destruction of ERW are reflected in Standard Operating Procedures and other internal directives of the Netherlands armed forces. The Netherlands incorporates Explosives Ordnance Disposal personnel in their expeditionary units/task forces. The EOD personnel will clear, remove and/or destroy conventional explosives and improvised explosives devices. Additionally they will dispose of enemy stocks of ammunition to prevent it from being used against NL/coalition forces. Procedures for ensuring the release and transmission of information in accordance with this article are in place. A central database has been set up to store all the recorded information on the use of explosive ordnance. The information is recorded in the 'Article 4 generic electronic template'. This will make it easier to retrieve and, at the appropriate time, transmit the information on ERW.

Every commanding officer of a mission receives (if applicable) an instruction on Protocol V (including Article 4 and on how to use the generic electronic template) and will bear the responsibility for recording the information. The Defence Staff of the Netherlands Ministry of Defence is responsible for compiling the recorded information, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs for its international transmission.

The Netherlands continues to be an important donor in the field of international Mine Action. Over the year 2022, the Netherlands contributed more than 23.7 mln EURO to mine action activities. These funds have been contributed to the United Nations Mine Action Service (UNMAS) (3 mln unearmarked contribution), to the United Nations Development Project (UNDP) and to NGOs: Mines Advisory Group, Danish Demining Group, The HALO Trust, Humanity & Inclusion, and the Geneva International Center for Humanitarian Demining. These NGOs are financed to undertake activities in a.o. Afghanistan, Iraq, Lebanon, Libya, Somalia, Ukraine, Syria, South Sudan and Lao PDR. Funds are intended for all pillars of mine action: mine clearing operations, mine risk education, victim assistance, stockpile destruction, advocacy and for capacity building.

Steps taken to implement the relevant provisions of Article 8(2):

In order to reduce the yearly number of victims of mines and ERW, as well as to promote socio-economic development in post-conflict areas, the Netherlands has included Mine Action in its integrated post-conflict reconstruction policy. Victim assistance (including medical care, rehabilitation and reintegration of victims of mines and ERW), is part of the Dutch policy on mine action.

Steps taken to implement the provisions of Article 9 and the Technical Annex:

Amongst others, prevention of the occurrence of explosive remnants of war starts with preventive measures taken under normal, that is, peacetime circumstances. The paragraphs below describe in general wording the steps taken by the Netherlands (NLD) emphasizing prevention of explosive remnants of war. Generally speaking, NATO rules or Standing Agreements (STANAGs) do apply.

A. Munitions manufacturing/procurement management

- (1) NLD has virtually no ammunition production capability. Therefore, during procurement, all necessary steps are taken so as to guarantee the highest possible reliability of munitions. This is achieved by the incorporation of specific requirements of generally adopted standards and norms in this so-called Programme of Requirements (POR), NLD-MOD/DMO) (Netherlands MOD/Defence Materiel Organization).
- (2) In the POR, requirements are incorporated to guarantee that production processes are subject to certified quality control measures like AQAP and/or ISO 9000.
- (3) The same POR also requires the supplier to prove his AQAP (Allied Quality Assurance Publication) and/or ISO 9000 certification.
- (4) Explosive ordnance is only introduced in the armed forces after successful completion of a series of acceptance tests, including live-firings according to a prescribed standard and the programme agreed upon with the manufacturer (included in the POR, varies with type of ammunition).
- (5) For explosive ordnance transactions and transfers, sound protocols exist for classification, CA (Competent Authority) certification and Qualification of Explosives used in a certain store. The permission to fire a specific munition with a specific weapon is regulated by NLD national regulations.
- (6) The Netherlands evaluates every new munitions-configuration according the NATO AAS3P documents for safety and suitability for service and will only be released for use after successful evaluation.
- (7) The Netherlands strive for so-called 'insensitive ammunition' wherever possible and available.

B. Munitions management

- (1) The storage of explosive ordnance is regulated in a national obligatory document.
- (2) Transportation of ammunition is regulated in a National document so as to guarantee minimal damage to the explosive ordnance and minimal impact on the surroundings in case of a mishap.
- (3) The containers / buildings for the storage of ammunition have to fulfil certain requirements. For the transportation of explosive ordnance, only qualified vehicles may be used.
- (4) The risk of explosions in stockpiles is regulated in quantity-distance requirements for stockpile arrangements.
- (5) All ammunition is characterized by a number of data, visible on the (packaging of the) explosive ordnance (barcode). In some cases data logging is used to show the exact history (storage conditions, locations where the munition has been and environmental factors it has been exposed to) of the ammunition.
- (6) Surveillance testing is carried out at regular intervals (depending on the type of ammunition) according to the Programme for Periodic Inspection.
- (7) Sub-assemblies, in particular (rocket-)propellants are under constant laboratory coverage.
- (8) In the Programme for Periodic Inspection, mandatory indications are given for (extension of) the expected shelf-life and actions to be taken to maintain the reliability of the product(s).

C. Training

Each (type of) ammunition may only be used after an intensive training. For that purpose special training aids and practice ordnance is procured.

- PROTOCOL V -

D. Transfer

Both national and international transfer of ammunition is subjected to strict rules.

E. Future Production/Procurement

In the near future, more emphasis will be laid on procurement of "less sensitive" (IM) ammunition with more attention to procurement of so called "green ammunition".

Future procurement will generally follow the same lines, where measures are taken to guarantee the highest possible reliability for functioning and safety. Included are "lessons learned" from mandatory reports after unwanted situations with ammunition.
