OTHER RELEVANT MATTERS:

In Montenegro, in the period from the beginning of the civil war in Yugoslavia until today, seven civilians and two soldiers were killed, due to the consequences of antipersonnel mines, cluster munitions and other explosive ordnance, as well as of consequences of NATO intervention, according to data presented by the Ministry of Finance and Social Welfare.

Under the Law on War Veterans and Disability Insurance ("Official Gazette of the Republic of Montenegro", No. 69/03, "Official Gazette of Montenegro" No. 21/08, 1/15 and 52/16) families of fallen soldiers, exercised the right to family disability allowance on the basis of the fallen soldier.

As a result of NATO intervention in 1999 and the explosion of mines, nine civilians were injured, out of which seven persons were characterised as civil war invalides, as follows:
-one person is recognized as civil war invalid of the fourth group with 80% disability with the right to personal disability allowance in the monthly amount of 254,79 euros;
-one person is recognized as civil war invalid of the fifth group with 70% disability with the right to personal disability allowance in the monthly amount of 180,22 euros;
-three persons are recognized as civil war invalides of the sixth group with 60% disability with the right to personal disability allowance in the monthly amount of 111,86 euros;
-two persons are recognized as civil war invalides of the seventh group with 50% disability with the right to personal disability allowance in the monthly amount of 80,78 euros.

The injured persons, being characterized as civil war invalids, are entitled to disability allowance in the monthly amount of money depending on the degree of physical impairment. In addition to the right to disability allowance, civil war invalids can exercise the right to allowance for care and assistance by another person, and the right to an orthopedic allowance.

In addition to these rights, the right to financial compensation of material security, family allowance, health care, free and privileged drive and funeral expenses can be exercised.

The right to financial compensation of material security can be achieved by disabled civil war invalids who are materially unsafe and unfit for work and earning, under the conditions stipulated by this law.

The right to family benefits can be exercised by family members of the deceased civil war invalid who was a beneficiary of allowance for care and assistance, until the day of his/her death.

Civil war invalids who are not otherwise insured are entitled to health care and other rights related to health care by health regulations.

Civil war invalids are entitled to orthopedic and other devices, in accordance with health regulations.

Civil war invalids are entitled to a spa and climatic treatment in accordance with health regulations.

Victims or persons who suffered harm, injury or psychosomatic diseases related to military operations, the explosion of residual war materials as well as hostile terrorist activity, can exercise right to certain compensation, by submitting a request to the local administration authority, at which territory the claimant resides.
